

ROBERT DANIELUK

Author of the „LOMOeast” Project

Currently a student of IIIrd year of Photography at the Academy of Arts in Gdansk. Graduate of a Photo Technical School in Warsaw. His interest in photography started in 1998. Born in Warsaw in 1983.

Author of “UnderGround” project, showing the life of Warsaw subway on photos taken with a cell phone. Cofounder and co organizer of the only Polish Photoblog Festival. Author of a photoblog www.senq.ownlog.com which is one of the most outstanding photo diaries in Polish internet. For some time now working with some reportage theme, catching moments, not creating them. He does not close himself for any specific kind of photography, as this would be too boring.

When creating a photo he wants each of them to make some influence, a reaction... a start of thoughts process: photo – viewer. He is a great fan of capturing industrious, forgotten and abandoned places, tings of the past times. On his internet sites and in press he often publishes his reportage essays from past the Eastern Border. He shows photos from Eastern Europe so that people stop their stereotype way of thinking. He also thinks that a trip to these places can be undertaken by everyone with no worries at all. His upcoming project will be an essay about life of people from Brest to Vladivostok.

In the LOMOeast project you can see all that was captured during numerous trips to that part of Europe. Original photographs, full of invidual magic.
